

Re-Launch of Mercom Website

February will see the launch of a brand new Mercom website. The intention is that this will be the starting point of further developments to the site during 2007. During this time Mercom will draw on the experiences gained from the original site and incorporate a number of interactive features.

Initially visitors to the site will be able to browse a number of pages that describe in detail the services that Mercom can provide, and an overview of their customer base, in addition to the usual areas of vacancies, exhibitions and contact details. It will of course still provide the entry point for the very popular monthly prize draw and the special offers featured from time to time.

During the second half of 2007 Mercom are aiming to provide regular customers with an on-line facility for booking in their repairs and arranging automatic collection.

Express PDA Repair

In recent years the PDA has become an increasingly essential device - especially in the areas of field service and logistics - with their portability and versatility continuing to promote sales success.

Recognising the growing market, Mercom have continued to invest in their PDA & Satellite Navigation repair department. This investment has been in both component level research and development and the ongoing acquisition of spare parts stock to ensure a fast and reliable turnaround time.

Mercom now repair substantial volumes which include the major manufacturers - Hewlett Packard, Palm and XDA and offer a next-day secure collection and return service.

With repair prices starting from £45.00 and turnaround times ranging between two to five days, Mercom are aiming to expand their customer base to assist companies in need of a reliable PDA repair and maintenance provider.

Stop Press

Regrettably Mercom had to suspend the monthly prize draw due to 'internet vandalism'. All entries up to the point of the suspension will be automatically entered into the February draw which will incorporate the additional security provided by the new website.
